PRIVATE VS. PUBLIC UNIVERSITIES

Private Institutions:

Admission is up to the discretion of each individual college to determine tuition for students without status

Public Institutions:

Must follow state law;
All NYS residents, regardless of immigration status are eligible for in-state tuition

WHO SHOULD APPLY FOR FEDERAL FINANCIAL AID?

- Undocumented students, including DACA students, are technically not eligible for federal financial aid
- If a student does not have an SSN, fill in this section with zero's! Do NOT fill it with anything else!

- DACAmented students can submit a FAFSA app even though they are ineligible for Federal Financial Aid

DACA
Recipients

- By completing the FAFSA form, students would receive a Student Aid Report (SAR)
- The SAR can be used to apply for institutional aid and other scholarships
- Tip: DACA students should fill out the FAFSA as early as possible and have their parents request an IRS Transcript

WHO SHOULD APPLY FOR FEDERAL FINANCIAL AID?

Undocumented students

- Undocumented students should NOT submit an online FAFSA form
- Students can use the CSS Profile as an alternative provided by College Board
- Students may fill out a print copy of the FAFSA form and hand it to individual institutions, who do the in-house calculations
- Counselors have to inform institutions when submitting a paper copy FAFSA or the CSS Profile

FINANCIAL AID: TIPS FOR STUDENTS WITH UNDOCUMENTED PARENTS

- Enter all zeroes for parents' social security numbers-- do NOT make up a number or use an ITIN!
- It is extremely rare for families to have issues with immigration authorities because of the FAFSA
- Parents should physically sign the printed out form rather than using the four-digit PIN number electronic signature
- You can request a transcript from the IRS right before filling out the FAFSA to help ease the process

ALTERNATIVES TO FEDERAL FINANCIAL AID

- Apply for an interest-free loan from the Hebrew Free Loan Society by contacting Rabbi David Rosenn at drosenn@hfls.org
- Apply for a scholarship open to all students regardless of immigration status: Davis-Putter Scholarship Fund, Live Mas Scholarship, Microsoft Scholarship Program, Ascend Educational Fund, etc.
- Talk to us about our Financial Planning Program!
